

Brazil is already lost to the Reds

by Huascar Terra do Valle, Brazilian essayist and lawyer

Beginning next year, Brazil 's next elected President will be the communist Lula, former union leader, graduated in terrorism, in Cuba, an outspoken enemy of the United States. Even if Lula is not elected, the damage is already made, for the other six candidates are extreme left-wingers.

Some time ago Lula and two hundred of his communist "tovaricht" went to Cuba, to celebrate last elections' victories with their mastermind, Fidel Castro, who said last year: "We will recuperate in Latin America what we have lost in Eastern Europe". He did it!

José Dirceu, the president of PT (Workers' Party), Lula's party, graduated in terrorism in Cuba and is suspected to have belonged to Castro's secret police, has an enormous influence on Lula. Therefore Fidel Castro will be the virtual president of Brazil.

It is probable that on Lula's inauguration Fidel will be in Brasília (the capital of Brazil), alongside with Hugo Chávez, members of the FARC (Colombia), as well as those who helped Lula reach the presidency will most likely be present: public workers, journalists, intellectuals, artists, lawyers, union leaders, Catholic bishops and priests, students. Like the governor of Rio Grande do Sul (the southernmost State of Brazil) did on his inauguration, Lula will most likely raise the Cuban flag beside the Brazilian, and may even play the anthem "Socialist International". All kinds of communist scoundrels will surely come from all over the world to enjoy the victory of communism in Brazil and it wouldn't surprise me to find notorious communist activists such as Noam Chomski, representatives of Saddam Hussein, Arafat and Osama bin Laden.

The triumph of communism in Brazil is also a defeat for the United States. This defeat will add another American enemy to the continent, an enemy about 75 times bigger than Cuba. A third of Colombia and Venezuela already are in the hands of the reds. An axis of evil is being formed to oppose American interests in Latin America: Cuba, Venezuela, Colombia's FARC and now Brazil, as denounced by Constantine Menges (fellow of The Hudson Institute, former special assistant to the president for national security affairs).

Since the sixties some Brazilian intellectuals tried to warn the USA of the dangers of the well-orchestrated campaign the communists are leading. While the United States has been successfully building their physical defenses, silently (accordingly to the Lenin strategy, improved by Antonio Gramsci) communists invaded the minds of Latin Americans and even North Americans; the Gramscists are masters at occupying the human mind! In the first day of the next year Brazilians will awake in a country under a communist regime. Nothing can be done, for he would have been elected by popular vote -and that is how Gramscism works. They already have former terrorists in key positions in the Brazilian government, the media, colleges and universities, and the labor unions. Two ex-terrorists have been Secretaries of Justice and another, president of the state-owned petroleum company, Petrobrás. In the countryside, the MST (Landless Workers Movement), a rural guerilla, is a branch of PT ("Workers" Party-really the Brazilian "Nomenklatura" party). Even the military, all time enemies of the communists, are heavily infiltrated by their ideas, especially prejudices against the United States.

Many in Brazil celebrated when the twin Manhattan towers were hit September 11, 2001. The ex-friar and PT activist, Leonardo Boff (promoter of the Marxist "Liberation Theology"), lamented that only three, not 25 planes were hijacked to destroy American's lives.

According to Gramsci, Capitalism and the Judeo-Christian culture must be destroyed so the communist revolution can succeed. This first phase is already successful in Brazil. Public schools no longer teach students the values of the Enlightenment Century. Guided by Gramscists, they are brainwashing the students with communist misinformation. In the new curriculum, communism is described as "the regime of social justice that will erase from the face of the earth capitalism, the loathsome regime of the exploration of man by man".

The United States, a symbol of the Enlightenment principles, were elected by the communists as their greatest enemy. The burning of American flags and the "Yankee go home" found on walls all over the world are the result of the campaign launched in 1919's Comintern, in the Kremlin, now reinforced by the new Gramscist strategy, proved so successful in Brazil.

We are on the verge of a terrible, dark future. As a Brazilian citizen I am asking you to turn your attention to the importance of the things that are happening in Latin America and might affect the world in the near future. The United States is the guardian of freedom, however we can see many signs that the same disgrace that is happening to Brazil is likely to occur also in the United States.
